COURSE OUTLINE

INSTRUCTOR'S NAME: Dr. Mary Grantham O'Brien

OFFICE LOCATION: CHC216

OFFICE HOURS: Mondays, Wednesdays 12:00-12:50

TELEPHONE NUMBER: (403) 220-5298

E-Mail: mgobrien@ucalgary.ca

DESCRIPTION

LANG 599.13 provides students with an introduction to the field of second language teaching and learning with a historical overview of the field. The course presents concepts from the related fields of applied linguistics, psychology and education. Students will have the opportunity to observe university language courses, analyze language textbooks, and develop a statement of teaching philosophy.

OBJECTIVES

- Discuss classroom basics. These include planning lessons and creating classroom tasks.
- Discuss communicative language teaching as well as its relationship to other methods and approaches. We will investigate the ways in which theory has informed practice. We will discuss the role of the four skills (reading, writing, listening, and speaking) as well as grammar, vocabulary, and pronunciation as they relate to the various methods and approaches.
- Discuss variation in language learning. Relevant variables include learner strategies, motivation, and age.
- Learn about the language learning process. We will read and critique studies published in professional journals.
- Develop skills to evaluate existing materials and to develop new materials.

OUTCOMES

By the end of the course you will have a greater understanding of research-informed language teaching.

ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT

1. Plagiarism is a serious offence, the penalty for which is an F on the assignment and possibly also an F in the course, academic probation, or requirement to withdraw. Plagiarism exists when:

- a) the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one's own in an examination or test);
- b) parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author;
- c) the whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source, and/or
- d) a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.

While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted." Plagiarism occurs not only when direct quotations are taken from a source without specific acknowledgement but also when original ideas or data from the source are not acknowledged. A bibliography is insufficient to establish which portions of the student's work are taken from external sources; footnotes or other recognized forms of citation must be used for this purpose.

2. Cheating at tests or examinations includes but is not limited to dishonest or attempted dishonest conduct such as speaking to other candidates or communicating with them under any circumstances whatsoever; bringing into the examination room any textbook, notebook, memorandum, other written material or mechanical or electronic device not authorized by the examiner; writing an examination or part of it, or consulting any person or materials outside the confines of the examination room without permission to do so, or leaving answer papers exposed to view, or persistent attempts to read other students' examination papers.

3. Other academic misconduct includes, but is not limited to, tampering or attempts to tamper with examination scripts, class work, grades and/or class records; failure to abide by directions by an instructor regarding the individuality of work handed in; the acquisition, attempted acquisition, possession, and/or distribution of examination materials or information not authorized by the instructor; the impersonation of another student in an examination or other class assignment; the falsification or fabrication of clinical or laboratory reports; the non-authorized tape recording of lectures.

4. Any student who voluntarily and consciously aids another student in the commission of one of these offences is also guilty of academic misconduct.

WRITING ACROSS THE CURRICULUM

Faculty of Arts

School of Languages, Linguistics, Literatures and Cultures

Writing skills should cross all disciplines. Students are expected to do a substantial amount of writing in their courses and, where appropriate, instructors can and should use writing and the grading thereof as a factor in the evaluation of student work. The services provided by the Writing Centre in the Effective Writing Office (<http://www.efwr.ucalgary.ca/>) can be utilized by all undergraduate and graduate students who feel they require further assistance.
